Spanish III

This course will place a greater emphasis on accurate language usage which is given a much higher priority in order to move students to a level beyond simply proficient. There will be increased focus and practice with oral, listening, reading and writing skills. Students will progress from developing interpersonal communication to learning presentational communication skills. Investigation into more detailed cultural aspects of the target language's countries and people are explored. Students are encouraged to be more independent in written and oral expressions. Students will continue to develop critical thinking and problem-solving skills by making connections with their own communities. Student will reflect on the nature of language through comparisons of the language studied and their own. Students will continue to prepare to be active participants in multilingual communities.

A special focus of the Honors level will be an increased focus on students' presentational communication skills.
